OCTOBER 2026 / ISSUE 01

The local connection.

People. Possibility. Your next opportunity.

A NOTE FROM SARAH

Built from the business floor.

Hi, I'm Sarah, founder of Ur Crew and owner of three hospitality stores. I know the time and money hiring takes: advertising, sorting applications and interviewing, all while running a business.

I created Ur Crew to solve a familiar problem: having to start from scratch every time you need to hire. By building an ongoing local talent pool, businesses can stay connected to candidates and be ready when a vacancy appears, helping reduce the time and money spent repeating the process.

Welcome to our first newsletter: practical tips and local opportunity for both sides of the hiring journey.

THE JOB MARKET

More competition. More reason to connect.

The ABS figures released on 15 October put Australia's September unemployment rate at 4.7%, with employment falling by around 39,000 people. This can mean more competition for some roles, although conditions vary by industry and location. At Ur Crew, we want to support people and businesses in this climate by making local connections easier. We currently serve hospitality and retail, with plans to expand into fitness, beauty/wellness, and interior design and styling.

One month is only part of the picture: the ABS recommends trend data, which showed unemployment at 4.6%.

FOR CANDIDATES

Give them a reason to notice.

In a competitive market, help businesses see what you bring. Update your availability, add your experience and upload a short video to let your personality shine. Your next employer could be closer than you think.

FOR BUSINESSES

Find the fit for your team.

More people looking for work doesn't automatically make hiring easier. Look beyond the résumé to availability, location and attitude. Build your local talent pool on Ur Crew now, so you're ready when the next vacancy appears.
